

nano
nano
nano
nano
nano
nano

| ethics

Come to the Launch of NanoEthicsBank (NEB)
Tuesday, May 1, 2007
4–5pm in the Kemper Room (2nd Floor), Galvin Library

Reception and Refreshments

The Center for the Study of Ethics in the Professions is pleased to announce the launch of NanoEthicsBank, an online resource for researchers, scientists, students, and anyone interested in nanotechnology and its implications for society. The NEB was produced under a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The presentation will highlight the access to and navigation of the database, introduce its contents and respond to questions such as:

- Who defines what is nanotechnology?
- How can the NanoEthicsBank help me with my research or grant proposal?
- How does the media coverage influence the public's perception of nanotechnology?
- What are environmental groups saying about nanotechnology?
- Which companies and universities are developing best practices for the handling of nanomaterials?

